THINKING OUT LOUD

By H. M. L.

According to estimates made by Russians who have fled Russia, something like 14,000,000 Russians are in concentration camps, forming great battalions of slave laborers, whipped to their daily tasks on a starvation diet, in rage and without shoes.

Henry Wallace, the "great humanitarian," said in Berkeley Thursday night, addressing some 15,000 students, that he wanted communism to succeed within Russia. Almost any Russian who has escaped the dreadful slave camps of that country can assure Henry that it is succeeding. It succeeds exactly as well as did Hitler's dictatorship in Germany.

When a man can be condemned to hard labor for this natural life for expressing dissent to government policies, or when one per cent of the Russian people can set up a despot to rule the other 99 per cent, that is a precedent to revolution of the most explosive kind. Before it can come, however, there can be, and probably will be years on years of mass murder, of starvation for millions and hard labor on government projects for all those who cherish aspirations for human liberty.

Henry Wallace is an appealing demogogue dealing in generalities. He is the man who odered millions of little pigs killed and wasted. Not long after all the little squeals were hushed, this country was in need of the food that he ordered detsroyed in order to benefit one group, the farmers. He is a dangerous deamer without the slightest practical sense of the realitities. Plowing under the third row of corn, killing little pigs, are illustrations of Henry Wallace's hare-brained grappling with economic problems.

One thing his job as secretary of agriculture did for him, was to inflate his ego. Handling millions upon millions of taxpayers dollars, was very bad for Henry, and very bad for the taxpayers. That "fools rush in where angels fear to tread" can be said of Henry. He did know something about farming, especially about corn, and as a breeder of better and bigger ears of corn he was and is a benefactor of his fellow men. But as a politician, rushing into the world arena of econmics and social relations, Henry is a national peril. For instance he says this country should tax itself 150 billions to set the rest of the world right. We should heal the wounds of war with money poultices. We should do it, according to Henry by pouring out cash. The world today is a poor house. Henry says we should maintain the poor house. He does not know that human nature being what it is, the more cash we give the louder and more demanding will be the cry for succor.

We doubt if Henry will be able to convince the American taxpayer that he should throw away every third dollar, even if they are amused. But when Henry thrusts back his forelock and thrusts out his chest declaiming the millenium is almost derous old Joe who is most amused. deous old Joe, who is most amused. He could use Henry, but there is no need because Henry's lend lease voice sounds right down the communist alley.

Henry today, bucking Uncle Sam's foreign policy when it needs national unity to back it, is the best friend of communism outside Moscow. In Italy, in France and in China, communism is waging a deadly battle for control of government. Henry Wallace, having tasted the power that comes with spending other people's money, is honing for another go at it. He call himself a liberal but Americans everywhere are beginning to see him for the wild eyed radical he is. For, he too, seeks to overturn our administration at Washington, to destroy the foreign policy enunciated there, and adopt a Pollyanna policy of doles to impecunious nations. But not, mind you to contribute one cent wherewith the little nations may defend themselves against the Russian Bear.

REMOVAL OF MANAGER ASKED BY NID PETITIONS

GRASS VALLEY: At a meeting of the Nevada Irrigation District Friday, two petitions were submitted to the board signed by landowners and water users, asking the board to remove Manager William Durbrow. Durbrow several months ago expressed his desire to resign. He is 70.

In an interview yesterday, he stated that labor union troubles were an important factor in NID troubles.

The board adopted a resolution offered by Director G. O. Griffith for the appointment of a committee of two directors to make a study of the entire management, personnel stucture and make their recommendations to the board with suggestions regarding a successor to Manager Durbrow.

Chester Loney of the Nevada County district offered a petitin signed by 120 waters users, making for the removal of the present manager. Loney said another petition was being circulated in the Chicago Park and Colfax district, but was not yet ready for presentation. C. M. Pomeroy offered a petition containing 27 signatures from the Placer county section of the NID.

Thomas Mulcahy, chairman of the board, last night named G. O. Griffith of Placer County and J. H. Gleason of Penn Valley as the two members of the committee to make an investigation and report to the board.

Landowners in the district, it was stated, found fault with the water distribution policy of the management, although causes other by dissatisfation have been discussed.

ROSEVILLE POLICE CHIEF ACCUSED OF FRAUD BY PRISONER

AUBURN: The Placer County Grand Jury will be called to probe charges that Police Chief L. B. Allen of Roseville used threats and devices to induce a prisoner to sell his home to Allen.

The prisoner, Daniel Grimes, 45. is facing a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor in the superior court.

He was booked in the county jail on April 15, and released Wednesday on $1000 bail.

District Attorney C. E. Tindall is basing his investigation on a statement signed by his attorney, F. L. Bowers in which Grimes claimed Allen advised him he faced 20 years in prison.

He claimed the police chief declined to tell him what charge he was held on, but offered to see that he got a light sentence if Grimes would sell Allen his home.

Police Chief Allen defended his action in buying the prisoner's home. He declared:

"He wanted to sell the house, and I bought it. That's all there is to it."

The house in question is located at 202 Grove Street, Roseville.

District Attorney Tindall said he had been probing the case for some time which was the reason that no hearing had been held for Grimes since he was lodged in jail here.

ANN HARTUNG IS TRAIL RIDERS QUEEN ENTRY

GRASS VALLEY: Feature of the Gold Trail Riders meeting Friday night at the Memorial Park club house was the selection of a candidate for the Grass Valley 49'er Days queen contest. Ann Hartung, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hartung and one of the most enthusiastic horsewomen of the group was unanimously chosen to represent the trail riders.

Also an interesting high light of the meeting was the showing of colored movies by Dr. Daniel Hirsch, president of the Grass Valley Chamber of Commerce. The movies were a travelogue presentation of Dr. Hirsch's motor trip through the national and state parks last year.

Every effort is being made to enable the club to ride as a group in the Auburn Gold Rush Days parade Saturday, June 7. An invitation and entry blanks were received from the Sierra Rangers of Auburn. The Rangers offered to take care of all the horses after the parade and to serve luncheon to the group.

Prizes are being offered for the best mounted groups. It is hoped that the parade uniform will be available by that date so that the riders can make the best showing possible. Any interested horsemen who would like to partiipate, whether belonging to the club or not, are requested to contact any of the club members.

MARYSVILLE CITY COUNCIL OKAYS "FREE PLAY" SLOT MACHINES

MARYSVILLE: The door is open to all "free play" coin amusement machines in Marysville, the city council decided last night.

Approval by the council May 5 of Thomas Young's application for permission to install 40 coin machines in bars, hotels and restaurants throughout the city brought a flood of applicants to city hall last night, all of whom told the councilmen their machines were strictly of the "free play" type and not gambling devices.

Al Lloyd was the first applicant to ask the council's approval last night. Lloyd said his machines were "console-type" amusement machines that did not dischage "slugs."

C. P. Reinert followed with a request to install machines of a type "the same as Youngs' These machines now located in various parts of the city discharge "slugs" entitling the player to as many more "plays" as the slugs received.

Dirver expressed the view that it would be impossible for the operators of the machines to watch them slosely enough to prevent minors from placing them, despite their claims that "they didn't want kids' nickels."

"We right juvenile delinquency with one hand and give it a pat on the back with the other hand when we do this,' Divver said.

The council stipulated however, that all "illegal" machines would be confiscated when proof was obtained that they were "paying out" either in money or merchandise.

It was also made clear by the councilman voting in favor of granting the permits that if the machines became a "nuisance" all licenses would be cancelled the following month. The city receives $5 dollars each month on each machine licensed.

HIGHWAY DEPT. WARNS OF RURAL FIRE HAZARD

SACRAMENTO: Watch your cigarette and cigar butts, was the warning issued today to motorists by E. Cato, chief of the California highway patrol on the heels of a report by the forestry department that the state is facing the most serious rural fire hazard since 1924.

Special orders have been issued to the patrol to enforce the law regarding throwing burning cigarette or cigar butts or burning embers from vehicles, Cato said. Particular attention is being paid to grain areas and grading land where the vegetation is especially dry, he added.

Public support can help, said Cato If we can enlist every motorist in a campaign to reduce rural fires it will mean a tremendous economic saving to the state. Step on your smokes and see that they are put into ash trays and not thrown on the ground.

MEMORIAL DAY

In cemeteries throughout Northern and Central California as all over the nation our citizens will pay their reverence to the departed on May 30.

The national cemeteries in San Francisco, at Arlington, at many other military centers will see throngs placing American flags and flowers upon the graves of our hero dead. From many ports vessels will put forth to scatter wreaths upon the waves.

But many hearts still aching from the last great world conflict will turn to long rows of white crosses in Europe, in Africa and on lonely South Pacific atolls where thousands upon thousands of this generations young manhood lay down for eternity.

They fought and died for a cause—an end to wars and everlasting amity among all peoples. The greatest honor we may pay them is to do our utmost to reach that objective where we may say each Memorial Day:

"Mission completed."—Contributed.

We've got this one filed "up our sleeve." You may hear about it later. Seems the stoy didn't pan out. who told police a remarkable yarn involving 15 pounds of precious sugar. Seems the story didn't pon out. The chap involved, neglected to sweeten up the fictional recipe with the proper proportion of facts.

That gentleman whom we reported as getting good air speed out of a ground conveyance doesn't care who knows his snortin' steel and iron monster was powered with — not gasoline, not propane, but butane.

Harold George made a record on one of his Recordio's of the inttial broadcast by Rodeo Roy of Sally of Grass Valley. Roy gives the song lots of lilt, but comes down mighty hard on the "old" when he sings "Sally of Old Grass Valley." The town isn't that old, Roy.

This week's bouquet goes to Gene Barbieri, for beautifying the bank of Deer Creek alongside his building with a formal garden. Thereby Gene beautifies Broad Street. He'sgot the terrace laid out in two neat rectangles of lawn, bordered with iris and other flowers.

You may not have seen it yet, but the Nugget's new black and yellow sign advertising "PRINTING" now hangs outside of Sampson's Stationery at 120 Mill Street, Grass Valley. Sampson's (Richard Allen, Proprietor) handles the Grass Valley department of our growing commercial printing business. Dan Elliott painted the sign, an elegant one, five feet long by fourteen inches wide.

Airborne wrinkle: Ever notice how the groups of sportsmen-flyers who visit the local airports on breakfast flights have adopted sort of a uniform? Men, women and children, they exhibit a marked preference for dark glasses and the long-visored tan navy-type caps made popular during the war by the late Admiral Mitscher.

WATCH FIRST STEPS

Watch those first steps after you leave the curb, the California State Automobile Association advises. The first few steps are the most dangerous, for that is when three out of four pedestrians accidents victims are hit at crossings.
